SOPHIA DAVENPORT

SOPHIA DAVENPORT 1818-1916

Our unique designs are inspired by Sophia's original watercolour paintings.

Sophia studied painting with William Turner and was a founding member of the Oxford Art Society. The Ashmolean Museum has several of her watercolours in their collection.

Sophia's lifelong interest in British flora was nurtured by her father Richard, an Oxford botanist. Her annotated portfolio is a fascinating record of British wildflowers.

We are proud to share our family archive of her beautiful but little known art through our homeware collection.
